Calls on Bishops To Share In Governing

Pope Paul Decrees Reform Of Roman Catholic Liturgy

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI decreed a vast reform of Roman Catholic worship today, called on the bishops of his church to share with him in its government, and then announced he would make an historic trip to the Holy Land next month.

The 66-year-old Roman Catholic ruler, in office scarcely five months, took the actions at a momentous closing meeting in St. Peter's Basilica of the second session of his Ecumenical Council.

He and his bishops gave Roman Catholicism its first two council decrees in 93 years—one on liturgy, the other on mass communications and then recessed the council until September.

But Pope Paul made clear that the 9-month recess would not be an idle period. He told the council's drafting commissions to rework all pending documents so that they might be completed at the assembly's next session.

The pontiff told the prelates the primary aim of their gathering was to set forth how they share with him, and under him, church government.

In an exhortation obviously aimed at conservative prelates who oppose the concept of shared power, he said:

"The episcopacy is not an institution independent of, or separated from, or still less antagonistic to, the supreme pontificate of Peter. But with Peter (the Pope) and under him it strives for the common good and supreme end (goal) of the Church. The coordinated hierarchy will thus be strengthened; its inner collaboration will be increased, not lessened; its apostolic effectiveness enhanced, not impeded; its mutual charity stirred up, not stifled.

"We are sure that on a subject of such importance the council will have much to say."

Washingtonville Home Damaged by Blaze Tuesday

Fire of undetermined origin at the Russell Shaffer Jr. home at 810 Cherry St., Washingtonville caused an estimated $4,000 damage late Tuesday afternoon. Volunteer Fire Chief George Boston reports.

The blaze broke out in the two-story frame structure about 5:25 p.m., gutting the interior. Firemen fought the blaze for an hour, but kept a watch until about 9:30 in case the fire broke out again.

The Shaffers were away at the time of the blaze. It was discovered and reported by newsboy Robert Snow Jr. The fire damage was not covered by insurance.

Owner of the property is Charles Senior from whom the Shaffers rent.

that will bring consolation and light."

Pope Paul in his prepared text did not mention the word "collegiality"—the term applied to the concept of shared papal-episcopal power. But his words clearly put him on the side of progressive prelates favoring the concept.

A council test vote Oct. 30 showed council members favored the concept 6-1. But an VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI announced today he would make an unprecedented visit to the Holy Land in January.

Mrs. Kennedy To Move Into New Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—A home with a history and a warmth, filled with the art she loves, will greet Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy when she walks into her borrowed Georgetown residence Friday.

The new address for the former First Lady—3038 N St.—is a three-story red brick dwelling with plenty of room. Undersecretary of State and Mrs. W. Averell Harriman, who own the house, have turned it over to the former First Lady and her children and have moved into a hotel.

The house has 11 rooms and 5 baths. From the entrance hallway, with etchings by Picasso and Matisse in the stairwell, to the picturesque dormered third floor bedrooms, it is furnished for elegant and comfortable living.

The dining room seats up to 18 comfortably. There are fireplaces in all but one room and the house contains a collection of French, English and Chinese lacquer furniture and Lowestoft china. And the art collection would be the pride of a museum.

In the rear is a spacious, block-long walled and terraced garden, with boxwood and magnificent magnolia trees and a swimming pool.

As she walks over the two Iranian rugs (gift of the Shah) in the entrance hallway, past a Louis V console with a big carved mirror of the same period.

Action on Ohio Highway Bond Issue Delayed

Snag on $500 Million Bill May Extend Assembly Session

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A legislative snag, involving the proposal to put a $500 million highway bond issue on next May's ballot, has dimmed hopes that the General Assembly can wind up its work in a week.

There appeared to be no question that the proposal has enough support for adoption by the Ohio Senate today.

But it didn't have enough support Tuesday night to suspend the rules so the matter could be taken up for immediate consideration.

20 Vote For Adoption
It will take 20 votes for Senate adoption of the bond issue resolution. It would have taken 22 Tuesday night to suspend the rules requiring such matters to "lie over" on legislative day after committee approval. So lawmakers are getting slightly behind schedule.

The House voted 117-11 Tuesday to allow construction of "Golden Age Village" in cooperation with metropolitan housing authorities.

If the House goes along on the $500 million highway bond issue proposal and indications are that it will, the final decision will be up to Ohio's voters in the primary next May 5.

Gov. James A. Rhodes' administration says some major highway projects now being considered for 1969-1972 could be put under contract between next year and 1968 if the bond issue is approved.

To meet the state's resulting obligations, a penny-a-gallon gasoline tax imposed to pay for a $500 million highway bond issue 10 years ago would be continued. This yields about $33 million a year. It is due to be retired in 1972.

And the controversial, decade-old axle-mile tax, based on miles traveled in Ohio by trucks with three or more axles and producing about $18 million annually, also would be tapped.

Backers of the proposal figure the new obligations could be retired by the end of 1976.

Before the Senate Highway Committee recommended ap-proposals and indications are

Trucker Hurt In Crash of 3 Vehicles

A western Pennsylvania truck driver was slightly injured when his vehicle consecutively sideswiped a Columbiana car and another tractor-trailer Tuesday at 5:20 p.m. on Route 14, about a half mile west of Unity.

Warren King, 42, of Elwood City suffered cuts on the back of the head when his eastbound rig went left of center, sideswiping first a car operated by Mrs. Irla Vargo, 38, of 455 Parkview, Columbiana, then striking a truck driven by Arthur Friley, 40, of RD 1, New Philadelphia.

Johnson Sets Sights On Budget Pared To 'Lowest Possible Level'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sets his sights today on a federal budget pared to "the lowest possible level," but has conceded the spending blueprint he ends Congress next month may reach a record $100 billion or more.

The economy, plus civil rights and national unity — the three keynotes of the new administration — were on the White House agenda today.

To discuss the health of the economy—and also to make an appeal or support—the President summoned representatives of labor and big business to the White House.

Meetings were scheduled for late afternoon with members of the AFL-CIO Executive Committee and representatives of the Business Advisory Council. Johnson also planned to talk with James Farmer, director of the Congress of Racial Equality, and to attend a ceremony honoring Secret Service agent Rufus Youngblood.

Youngblood, who shielded Johnson with his body after the shots rang out that killed John F. Kennedy, will be cited for bravery.

Pressing his economy drive, Johnson conferred again Tuesday with Budget Director Kermit Gordon and his deputy, Elmer Staats.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said the Budget Bureau is launching "an agency by agency, department by department examination of the budget."

Salinger said Johnson will hear the appeals of any federal department head who protest they are not getting enough

New Water Supply Sought

City to Study Use Of Beaver Creek

Salem may be pumping water into the city reservoir from Little Beaver Creek in the near future, if a report on a study authorized by City Council Tuesday night is favorable.

Council passed 6-1 an ordinance authorizing Utilities Superintendent William Thompson to enter into a contract with Burgess & Niple, a consulting engineer firm from Columbus, to study the city's raw water supply and distribution needs.

The contract is not to exceed $2,300 and once the firm gets underway, it is expected to provide a report within 90 days.

Thompson said the main avenues of study will be the feasibility and cost of pumping water from the Shelton's Grove - Eagletons Glen area along the Teegarden road, approximately five miles south of the city, and the possible replacing or repair of the city's elevated storage tank on E. State St.

The city purchased a 79-acre tract along the Little Beaver from Mrs. Frances Eagleton of 610 E. 3rd St., in October of 1962 at a price of $4,500.

Koenreich Objects

Councilman Fred Koenreich cast the dissenting vote, giving as his reason the fact that a study of the Salem water system was done in 1949 by the Chester Engineering Co. of Pittsburgh. He feels that that company should at least be consulted on the current proposal.

In answer to this argument, Thompson said that he has studied the Pittsburgh firm's report and feels that it was a good diagnosis at that time.

"However, many factors have changed since then, and I don't believe that company could do the job any more effectively or any cheaper than the firm we have in mind," Thompson argued.

The distance from the middle fork of Little Beaver to Salem

City Lake (reservoir) is about 4,200 feet, while the distance from the lake to Cold Run, where water is pumped from at present, is about one and one-half miles.

Thompson stated that the transfer of water from Little Beaver to the city lake will be a good-size project because the lake is about 160 feet above the elevation of the creek. A lift-station would have to be installed to handle the job.

"The water we will take from Little Beaver will be an auxiliary supply," Thompson said.

Longevity Pay Proposed

City Workers Would Benefit

Koenreich Urges Council Study Plan

Longevity pay for city employees was suggested by Fred Koenreich when City Council met in regular session Tuesday night at City Hall.

Koenreich, a retiring councilman-at-large, told Council that he has done much research on the matter and produced facts and figures he had obtained.

Koenreich said that in five of the eight communities with populations of 8 to 12,000 which surround Salem, a longevity plan of some type is in effect.

A maximum increase in pay of $5 per month after each five-year tenure of duty was termed a "maximum" by Koenreich, who said the raise should be broken down into an hourly increase for employees who are paid on that basis.

If longevity were to begin in the city today, Koenreich explained, the immediate increase in cost to the city would be $5,623.20. He said that the general fund would have to withstand $3,842 of the cost, the Utilities Commission would be "hit" for $1,034 with the street repair and parks commission funds putting in $686 and $60, respectively.

Policemen would be benefited most by the advent of longevity in the city. The employees in that department would have a total increase in wages of $1,564.80.

Asks Vacation Schedule

Koenreich, in his sweeping appraisal of the city's wage and employees relationship plan, also said that the city should clarify what holidays are non-working holidays. He also said that employees who are required to work

Columbiana OK's Sewage Plant Bid

COLUMBIANA — Following recommendation by the board of public affairs, Village Council last night accepted the bid of the W. B. Gibson Company, general contractors of Warren, for the construction of the new sewage disposal plant here at a cost of $318,000.

The necessary ordinance was passed, subject to the approval of the federal government. A government grant will aid in the financing.

Jack Gibson and two other representatives of the company were present to answer final questions concerning the project.

Asked by Councilman Robert

Ferrall if local men would be hired, Gibson said local help would be used whenever possible. He said his company works closely with the unions and general tradesmen would be most likely to be hired. He added that three to five weeks of preliminary preparation would be necessary before actually starting the job but that an office would be established and work started by the Jan. 8 deadline set by the federal government.

Leaders To File Discharge Petition

House Speed-Up On Rights Bill Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan by House leaders to resort to a petition in an effort to pry the civil rights bill out of the Rules Committee is threatening the bill's shaky bipartisan backing.

Most Republican members oppose on principle the idea of bypassing committees by getting a majority of the House members to sign a petition, and have little sympathy with the drive getting under way to move the civil rights bill to the floor in such a manner.

Meanwhile, civil rights leaders gather today in what was described as "an extraordinary session" to discuss means of implementing President Johnson's appeal for quick action on civil rights legislation.

The group—including Roy Wilkins * of the NAACP and Dr. Martin Luther King—is expected to represent more than 70 organizations and plans to hold a closed meeting before visiting President Kennedy's grave in Arlington National Cemetery.

To speed up House action on the bill, Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said Tuesday plans are going ahead to have a discharge petition filed Monday. Democratic leaders are hoping to have a large number of Democrats sign up at once.

They would like to get as many as 150 signatures by Tuesday, in which case they feel Republicans would be under heavy public pressure to supply the rest of the names needed to reach 218—a majority.

Such a strategy is almost certain to produce resentment among Republicans who support the civil rights bill, but who have never signed a discharge petition and never plan to.

They contend that Republicans have done enough to help get a civil rights bill to make them immune from such pressures.

The bill now in the Rules Committee was worked out largely by the Justice Department.

Council Cool to Naming Overpass As JFK Memorial

A suggestion by several city residents that the W. State St. overpass be named the John F. Kennedy Overpass in memory of our assassinated president, met with a cool reception on the floor of City Council last night.

Councilmen Albert Lesch and Harold Asty said they had been approached by several residents on the subject of naming the overpass, or possibly a street, after the late President.

The subject was discussed briefly with the opinion of most councilmen appearing to be that it would be unwise to "jump on the band wagon" in the President's murder.

Councilman James Aldom said he does not feel that such a move should be made, but added that if a motion to name the overpass after Kennedy was made, he would be politically, as well as emotionally, obligated to vote for it.

No such motion was made, however, and President Ford Joseph Jr. told the councilmen to give the matter further thought and a decision could be reached at the next session.

Trial Scheduled Feb. 3 for Ruby

Postponement of 8 Weeks Ordered

DALLAS (AP) — People throughout the nation saw Jack Ruby kill the accused slayer of President Kennedy and they're likely to hear nearly all the evidence before Ruby's murder trial ever starts.

Steps to set two formal inquiries in motion raised this prospect today on the heels of an eight-week postponement of the Ruby case, originally set for Dec. 9. The new date is Feb. 3, fixed Tuesday by District Judge Joe B. Brown because the prosecution and defense said they needed more time.

Fresh information came to light, meanwhile, about Lee H. Oswald, the 24-year-old Marxist charged with the Kennedy assassination, and Ruby, 52, a Dallas night spot owner who gunned down Oswald before national television viewers just two days later.

In Washington, a former Marine Corps lieutenant in whose unit Oswald served for a time, John E. Donovan, said Oswald's military discharge and departure for Russia in 1959 caused a stir.

"That compromised all our secret radio frequencies, call signs and authentication codes," said Donovan, now a physics teacher in a private school. "He knew the location of every unit on the West Coast and the radar capability of every installation. We had to spend thousands of man-hours changing everything..."

It was learned in Dallas that the Internal Revenue Service is trying to collect $20,880 from Ruby through four liens filed with the county clerk. The government claims he failed to pay all the taxes he owed and the liens cloud title to any property he holds until they are paid.

In apartment house manager in Dallas, Miss Dean Roberts, said a man who placed a newspaper advertisement demanding answers to a dozen questions from the Kennedy administration the day of the assassination has left town.

Miss Roberts said the man, Bernard Weissman, and a roommate, William Burley, paid a month's rent Nov. 5, but unexpectedly departed Nov. 27—five days after a sniper killed the

ACS Conducts Broadest Study

Another Statistical Blast Fired at Smoking

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The American Cancer Society, in what is said to be the broadest study yet made of the subject, reported today that death rates are far higher among cigarette smokers than among non-smokers and that the rates increase with the amount of smoking.

The report came on the heels of a proposal by the American Medical Association's Board of Trustees for a research program on tobacco and health "beyond statistical evidence."

The American Cancer Society's report was based on 422,094 men who filled out detailed questionnaires and then were traced for an average of 4.3 months.

Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, the society's director of statistical research, outlined the new findings at the 17th annual clinical meeting of the American Medical Association. The figures confirm previous findings and go further, he said.

Pipe-smoking Dr. Hammond reported death rates were far higher among cigarette smokers than non-smokers, they increased with amount of smoking, and they were lower among ex-smokers of a year or longer than among current smokers.

The latest study, aimed at refuting challenges to six earlier ones, includes many new factors. One part of it compares death rates of 36,975 matched pairs (one smoker and one non-smoker).

The "twins" were matched for age, race, height, urban or rural residence, and numerous other characteristics—even degree of baldness and frequency of eating fried foods. The smoker in each pair used a pack of cigarettes a day or more.

Of the 36,975 matched pairs, 1,365 of the smokers died during the study compared with 602 of the non-smokers.

Lung cancer killed 110 of the smokers, 12 of the non-smokers. Fifteen smokers died of emphysema, another lung disease, compared with 1 non-smoker. More than twice as many smokers as non-smokers (684 and 312) died of two arterial diseases. Other causes felled 57 smokers compared with 329 of the non-smoking "twins."

Among smokers age 40 to 69 who started before age 15 the death rate was 2.9 as high as among those who never smoked regularly.

Lung cancer death rates of current cigarette smokers were 11 times as high as non-smokers —18 times as high among very heavy smokers.

The American Tobacco Institute has said conclusive scientific evidence is lacking to show connection between cancer and smoking.

Dr. Hammond said other diseases found related to cigarette smoking included cancer of the mouth, throat and bladder, and gastric ulcers.

About 60 members of the Future Scientists of America Club of the Salem Junior High School collected $268 in last Friday's door-to-door canvass here for the benefit of cerebral palsy victims, a tally completed today showed.

East Liverpool in a similar campaign contributed more than $1,400, most of which goes to support the Columbiana County cerebral palsy clinic in that city.

President Johnson's Wealth Placed In Trustees' Hands

WASHINGTON (AP) — All most of President Johnson's personal wealth has been placed in the hands of trustees, the Washington Post said today.

It also said he has put his Washington house up for sale. According to the newspaper, the new President had put most of his stockholdings under trusteeship when he assumed the vice presidency in 1961. It said most of these have been liquidated.

Since becoming President Nov. 22, the Post said, Johnson has placed some 5,000 acres of unimproved Texas grazing land under trusteeship. He owns the land jointly with Mrs. Johnson.

Under the agreement, the trustee may not apply for any provision of federal farm or land subsidy under any circumstances. The trust lasts until Johnson is not President or dies, which ever comes first.

The trustee is A.W. Moursland, a Johnson City, Tex., attorney who is co-trustee for Mrs. Johnson's holding which include the LBJ Co., which had an interest in several Texas and Oklahoma radio stations. Mrs. Johnson was majority stockholder and chairman of the LBJ Co.

The President continues to hold his ranch house near Johnson City and some 40 surrounding acres, the Post reported. He will also retain control of his municipal bonds.

The house the Johnsons plan to sell — known as "The Elms" — is located in the exclusive Spring Valley section of northwest Washington. It was estimated they paid between $160,000 and $200,000 when they bought it from Mrs. Perle Mesta in June 1961.

U.N. Council May Approve South Africa Arms Embargo

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council is expected to approve today a Norwegian resolution calling for a worldwide arms embargo aimed at forcing South Africa to abandon its racial policies.

Hochradel said changing of the name will in no way change the service of the company. He said the name change has been planned since 1955.

10,000 Gallons of Whisky Consumed In Dry Ohio Town

ORRVILLE — Whisky, 10,000 gallons of it, was consumed here last night. An Orrville was voted dry years ago.

The whisky was consumed by soft ground along the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks when a tank car containing that amount was ruptured in a 15-car derailment of a westbound freight train at 7 p.m.

A railroad spokesman said no one was injured. An auto belonging to an unidentified railroad worker was flattened when one freight car fell on it, but no one was inside.

The pileup tore up all tracks on the railroad's main New York-Chicago line and trains were being rerouted. No damage estimate was available.

Nikita Satisfied With LBJ Speech

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev expressed satisfaction Tuesday night with President Johnson's promises to work for peace and better relations with the Soviet Union.

"As regards the Soviet Union, it will not relax its efforts in search of a solution to major international problems and will press for the further consolidation of relations with other countries."

Khrushchev made his comment at a farewell dinner given by President Urho Kekkonen of Finland, who was ending an unofficial visit with Khrushchev.

We Want Action!

Ohio's highway program definitely needs a $500 million "shot in the arm" as proposed by Gov. James A. Rhodes but Salem area residents can't help but wonder if this would be just more money spent on new roads in all other sections of the state, which seems to be the custom.

The only improvement proposed in this district is the relocation of U. S. Route 30 near Lisbon.

No mention is made of the long-sought U. S. 62 relocation here, which is the No. 1 project as far as Salem city officials, Chamber of Commerce leaders and Manufacturers Association executives and other civic leaders are concerned.

Promises, promises and more promises on speculative construction dates are all that local officials have been able to obtain from State Highway Department officials relative to Route 62 which by all means, should be relocated close to Salem and preferably to the immediate north.

But when years come and go and the much-needed highway improvement still fails to get the blessing of the Ohio Highway Department, it's time local officials took another look at the tax money they're funneling to the state capital each day in the existing penny-a-gallon gasoline tax and the axle-mile tax which the trucking firms pay.

Sorely needed highway projects in the Salem area have been studied but usually wind up with low priority ratings which never get them out of the Division 11 and Division 4 state highway department offices.

The people of Salem are all for better roads, as Jim Rhodes has proposed, but they'd like to have some assurance that we will get tangible projects, instead of promises or weak excuses.

Decision For Lyndon B. Johnson

One day soon the new President of the United States must make a decision as No. 1 man in the Democratic party. It will have heavy bearing on his responsibilities as chief executive of the United States.

Will he expose himself as party leader to the same hazards that finally caught up to his martyred predecessor? Or will he widen the margin of security that surrounds all presidents but was not wide enough to save the life of President Kennedy?

In the 19th century, our chief executives had little, often no, protection. In the 20th century, after the assassination of President McKinley, more precautions were taken. But, significantly, they were taken against presidential will.

CALVIN COOLIDGE liked to play games with his Secret Service protectors, to throw them off the track. Franklin D. Roosevelt was a special security problem because of his paralysis. His wartime penchant for "inspection" trips in open cars were worrisome.

Dwight D. Eisenhower exposed himself to extreme hazard on trips to foreign countries, where his security was the responsibility of his hosts. President Kennedy was fond of mingling in crowds.

Why do presidents risk their safety? Why don't they do what their Secret Service guards want them to do?

Because they are politicians as well as presidents.

President Kennedy was starting his 1964 campaign. He had been in Florida and then had gone to Texas. He lost Florida in 1960 and was in danger of losing Texas in 1964. He wanted to be seen by as many Texans as possible. The Democratic party was in turmoil. He was on a fence-mending expedition.

IF SECRET SERVICE prevailed, no president of the United States would ride in an open car through city streets, mingle with crowds at airports, make a speech from an open-air platform. But the Secret Service will not prevail—not while presidents need votes.

President Johnson has given his guards some bad moments while they were watching over him in the vice presidency. He will have to decide how he intends to proceed from this point forward.

Neither he nor the Secret Service needed to be reminded that in this country of tensely repressed violence all of us are at the mercy of whatever killer may have made the fateful decision to end our lives.

The question is how long the odds against the potential killers of presidents should be. Presidents, themselves, make the decision.

Key to Freedom By Truman Twill

It scares me every time I find out how little tolerance my countrymen really have for two-party government.

They are never further than a few steps from the brink of totalitarian oblivion.

The thing that could destroy all of us someday is their burning resentment of political criticism. They love to dish it out, but they hate to take it. They keep playing with the notion things might be better if criticism could be choked off when the "loyal opposition" is doing it.

They are tired of sniping and carping, they say.

Snipers and carpers, they say, are unfair. So why let them snipe and carp?

FOR ONLY one reason, fellow countrymen. Because if the right is taken away from the other side, it can be taken from your side.

That wouldn't be so good, would it? No U.S. citizen who can't say and honestly believe he disagrees with everything another man says but will fight for his right to say it has missed the point of freedom.

It is not something that can be put on like a hat, this freedom. It is something men must scramble for and scrounge for. They must be willing to fight and die for it. They must want it so much they never will quit trying to get it, because in fact that's how it works. Men strive for it. They never have it.

The pursuit of freedom and the pursuit of happiness go together.

And the pursuit is over the instant men submit to being gagged. From then on, their happiness and freedom are like that of a milch cow.

THERE HAS BEEN angry talk since John Kennedy was murdered about newspapers that criticized him.

The talkers accuse newspapers of being hypocritical for mourning our late President after lambasting the way he was running the presidency.

If they really meant this, they would be saying presidents should be immune to criticism because they might die and their critics would be hypocritical if they mourned their passing.

They would be saying they would rather have a one-party system of government with no criticism allowed because it would be less disturbing that way.

THIS scares me.

We depend on the two-party system to keep criticism of public affairs alive. Without the system we'd be no better off than they are in places where criticism is penalized by death, exile, torture and loss of the right to eat.

Yet, people with the most to lose if they lost freedom are often the ones who seem ready to chuck the key to freedom because they can't take criticism when their turn comes, though they love to dish it out.

It scares me. This is how close the country is to losing freedom.

"Wonder How Fierce He Is?"

LBJ Seeks Labor Support

By VICTOR RIESEL

Shortly before noon on Tuesday, Nov. 26, the phone rang in President Johnson's office. At the other end of the wire was George Meany, Mr. Labor himself. He suggested that he and the 28 other union chiefs who make up labor's high command, come over.

Their executive council was, at the moment, in emergency session just down the street. They wanted personally, to pledge their support.

It was explained that the President could not make the time. Heads of governments had come from across the world and the President's day was theirs. Those across the square understood. This was not a brush off.

There were one or two labor leaders who grumbled, however. But they were not privy to the telephone calls which Mr. Johnson had made the previous Saturday—his first full day in office as President of the United States.

THAT GRIM and hectic day, Lyndon Johnson did not forget his labor friends. He waited until a small group of them had paid their respects to John Kennedy and expressed their condolences to the Kennedy family in the White House.

Then Mr. Johnson telephoned George Meany, David Dubinsky, Walter Reuther and Alex Rose. He reached some of them in Washington. Those who had already left the Capital, he phoned in New York.

"This is the President," he said. "I'm calling to say hello. I—we need your help, advice and guidance. I hope we will get your support."

The replies, of course, were quick and friendly.

They were talking to their nations leader. But they were not unmindful that he was a political leader as well and that no labor movement can survive in strength without the friendship of the White House.

The President, of course, is a political scientist cum laude. He was determined to win over the labor leaders. He wants to make the labor movement as intimate an ally on all fronts as did John Kennedy.

THERE ARE those who say that this is not possible. But the doubtful ones forget that labor did not support the late Mr. Kennedy at the outset. It was a labor leader who balked Mr. Kennedy's bid for the vice presidency in '56 by convincing the late Estes Kefauver to stay in Chicago for the successful fight on the senator from Massachusetts. And during the first half of '60, labor men supported Adlai Stevenson or Senators Humphrey and Symington.

Yet the relationship—an almost emotional intimacy—soon developed between John Kennedy and labor's top policy makers.

This is what Lyndon Johnson wants to recreate. If he succeeds, he'll owe it as much to a forgotten man as to his own skill. That man is "Mr. Sam"—Rayburn.

It was back in 1906 that the late Speaker of the House talked turkey to Walter Reuther. "Mr.

Sam" said he was sick of labor leaders "ganging up" on Lyndon Johnson.

REUTHER DEMURRED. He said he was not opposed to Lyndon Johnson. But, the auto union chief said, the labor movement wanted a winner—and the end of eight years of Republican government. And he thought Hubert Humphrey would make a strong candidate.

"Mr. Sam" persisted in the following months. He believed, as does Lyndon Johnson now, that no national election can be won by a Southern candidate. Texans included, without labor support. Especially that of New York State labor.

After the '60 election the drive to change the image of Johnson's "sectionalism"—a phrase used by some of the labor strategists—picked up speed.

Mr. Johnson visited union headquarters. Jim Carey of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) had been for Stuart Symington. Soon enough Mr. Johnson got to the IUE building here and said he felt right at home. He won them over at IUE.

HE SPOKE at the conventions of the United Steelworkers and the Amalgamated Clothing Workers. He was the first American vice president to visit the Scandinavian countries. They have labor governments. In Norway, he went into an Oslo factory. There he drank coffee with 200 unionized workers—and told them Norway and the United States had the same respect for the laborer.

Though he hit the hustings, night and day, nationally and internationally, the public did not pay much heed to these forages.

But the labor leaders did. The image changed in their minds, though their political hearts belonged to John Kennedy. That's why they were delighted with his phone calls that first day. And no doubt the warmth of their replies delighted him.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Ten years ago our son married a girl who teaches psychology. Since we live in a distant city, we don't see them very often. Judging by our last visit, perhaps it's just as well.

Their 8-year-old son says and does whatever comes to his mind. He is rude and disrespectful, interrupts adults when they are speaking and behaves as if the whole world revolves around him.

One evening when the boy was watching TV his mother asked him to put his bicycle in the garage. He replied, "Drop dead!"

She ignored his remark and put the bicycle away herself. Later that evening I told her I thought the boy should not be allowed to speak to her that way. She answered, "All children sometimes wish their parents were dead. I believe in allowing our son the freedom to express himself instead of burying his hostility."

I was so stunned I could not reply. I'm still unable to get over it. Is she crazy or am I? —SPEECHLESS.

Dear Speechless: I doubt that she's crazy but I certainly can't say much for her approach to child rearing. A child's hostilities SHOULD be worked off but there are better ways than getting lippy with parents.

Children who are permitted to say and do anything they please, grow up to be obnoxious. And they often have a tough time adjusting to a world which will not tolerate such guff.

In Nature's Defense

Dear Ann: I feel compelled to defend a great lady who is unable to defend herself—Mother Nature. You were comforting the flat-chested girl and encouraging her to fill with cotton what God had forgotten. Every human being is made with the genes supplied by the parents. Why, then, blame Mother Nature? It's just as though someone gave you all the materials with which to build a house—and didn't include anything for a porch.

You gave the girl good advice but you didn't go far enough. You should have told her that when she selects a mate she should take a good look at his mother, his sisters and his aunts. If a flat-chested woman chooses a husband from a flat-chested family the chances are good that her daughters will be in no better shape than she is.—OL' COTTON PICKER.

Dear Ol' Cotton Picker: Heaven help us when THIS becomes a consideration in selecting a husband. People already are getting married for wacky enough reasons without adding THIS to the list.

Dear Ann Landers: Why is society so merciless to the middle-aged husband who leaves his nagging, selfish, overweight wife to enjoy the company of some pleasant woman who has the sense to praise him occasionally and make him feel like a man?

Millions of husbands probably would take a powder tomorrow if they didn't fear the label of "heel" for walking out and leaving "the poor thing" with the children, the house, the car and the bank account. Me—I just left.—COLOR ME GONE.

Dear Friend: There's no point in trying to reach you, since you already are Gone. But to other husbands who feel as you do, I'd like to suggest that you spell out your feelings, frankly and promptly, not to ME but to your wife—or should I color you yellow?

Is Prayer Illegal?

By DAVID LAWRENCE
For several months now, the American people have been puzzled as to whether anyone in the government of the United States on a formal or official occasion, ask people to pray to God. In fact, ever since the Supreme Court's decision which ruled school teachers could not be directed by state or local governmental authorities to use a particular prayer in the classroom, there has been a question as to what mention of the supreme being would be permissible in official functions.

It's known, of course, that atheists have been insisting that there should be no semblance of religious worship in the public schools, but many citizens who do believe in God have assumed that the Supreme Court sooner or later would clarify its position and permit voluntary prayers in public schools.

It was, therefore, rather significant to note the frequent references to prayers to God which have been made in public speeches these last few days.

In the address, for instance, which President Lyndon Johnson delivered before the joint session of Congress on Nov. 27, he said:

"On this Thanksgiving eve, as we gather together to ask the Lord's blessing and give him our thanks, let us unite in those familiar and cherished words: 'America, America. God shed his grace on thee, and crown thy good with brotherhood from sea to shining sea.'"

IN THE Thanksgiving proclamation which had been issued on Nov. 4 to the American people, the late President Kennedy said:

"Over three centuries ago our forefathers in Virginia and in Massachusetts far from home in a lonely wilderness set aside a time for thanksgiving. On the appointed day, they gave reverent thanks for their safety, for the health of their children, for the fertility of their fields, for the laws which bound them together and for the faith which united them under God."

"So, too, when the colonies achieved their independence, our first president in the first year of his first administration proclaimed Nov. 26, 1789, as a day of public thanksgiving and prayer to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many signal favors of almighty God and called upon the people of the new republic to 'beseech him to pardon our national and other transgressions . . . to promote the knowledge and practice of true religion and virtue . . . and generally to grant unto all mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as he alone knows to be best.'"

"On that day (November 28) let us gather in sanctuaries dedicated to worship and in homes blessed by family affection to express our gratitude for the glorious gifts of God; and let us earnestly and humbly pray that he will continue to guide and sustain us in the great unfinished tasks of achieving peace, justice and understanding among all men and all nations and of ending misery and suffering wherever they exist."

ON THANKSGIVING Day, President Johnson spoke over radio and television to the American people. He referred to Mr. Kennedy's proclamation and said:

"Tonight, on this Thanksgiving, I come before you to ask your help, to ask your strength, to ask your prayers that God may guard this republic and guide my every labor. . . ."

"On this Thanksgiving Day, as we gather in the warmth of our families, in the mutual love and respect which we have for one another, and as we bow our heads in submission to divine providence, let us also thank God for the years that he gave us inspiration through his servant, John F. Kennedy."

"Let us today renew our dedication to the ideals that are American. Let us pray for his divine wisdom in banishing from our land any injustice or intolerance or oppression to any of our fellow Americans, whatever their opinion, whatever the color of their skin—for God made all of us, not some of us, in his image. All of us, not just some of us, are his children."

"And, finally, to you as your President, I ask that you remember your country and remember me each day in your prayers, and I pledge to you the best within me to work for a new American greatness, a new day when peace is more secure, when justice is more universal, when freedom is more strong in every home of all mankind."

These numerous references to prayer and to the deity, coming as they do from the highest official in the government of the United States, are bound to be regarded by many people as proof that to mention God or to refer in public speeches to prayer is not to be construed as "an establishment of religion" in the sense in which the Constitution uses the phrase.

INDEED, there are many citizens who feel that while prayers of any kind can, of course, be said in the home or in churches or in public meetings, the recent trend which would banish any religious exercises in the public schools can only, in the long run, mean that opportunities will be missed to teach public-school students the foundations of morality and good behavior.

Chief Justice Warren, in his comment on the assassination of President Kennedy, declared it was "a result of the hatred and bitterness that has been injected into the life of our nation by bigots." And he said in conclusion, "May God protect our nation in this hour of crisis."

While people generally wish to see hatred and bigotry eliminated from community life, they will also recognize that such a Utopian mood will not come unless school children, as well as grown-ups, are more deeply imbued with the Golden Rule mentioned in the Bible and the spirit of conciliation which is so necessary to solve the troublesome problems of a free republic.

Sixty-six were released during the month, five were conveyed to state institutions and five mental patients were taken to state hospitals. There were 193 visitors to the jail.

A total of 3,803 meals was served at a total cost of $1,172.49, making the average daily cost per prisoner $2.4 cents.

Sheriff VanFossan said his department served 214 papers, and handled 6,565 radio transmissions and 1,201 phone calls. The sheriff's office in the Courthouse accepted 15 sets of fox feet and ears for bounty. Fees totaling $816.49 were collected.

AMENDMENTS TO THE house rules and bylaws of the constitution of the Salem Federation of Womens Clubs were discussed when the federation met Monday at the Ruth Smucker House, with Miss Rosina Schell as presiding officer.

Recommendations as to changes and additions were decided upon and will be sent to member clubs for balloting, and contingent upon approval will be incorporated into the constitution at the next meeting April 6.

Hostesses Miss Schell, Mrs. Joel Sharp and Mrs. Kenneth Suggert served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

THE EVENING GUILD of the Church of Our Saviour will have their Christmas party at 7:30 this evening at the church undercroft instead of the home of Mrs. R. John Taylor as scheduled.

THE SALEM WORLD WAR II Memorial Committee will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in the American Legion hall.

MRS. MARY JANE MILLER of Riviera Beach, Fla., formerly of Salem, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her mother, Mrs. Myrtle Burson, and brother, Robert Lora of 378 E. 4th St.

THE EAGLES AUXILIARY District Eight meeting will be Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Eagles Lodge at Struthers.

SANDRA CIOTTI presided when 29 members of the Sophomore Y-Teens met Saturday afternoon at the YWCA.

Articles for their booth at the coming International YWCA Fair were brought to the meeting.

Tentative plans were made for a bake sale in the near future and a Christmas Dance.

Mrs. Perry Hilliard is group adviser.

Mrs. Fred B. Faulkner

Vivian Vincent Bride Of Fred B. Faulkner

Rev. Russell Bone, pastor of Harlem Road Christian Church at Rockford, Ill., was officiating minister at the wedding uniting in marriage Miss Vivian Elaine Vincent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Vincent of RD 4, Salem, and Fred Boehning Faulkner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Faulkner of Branson, Missouri, at 3 p.m. Friday in the sanctuary of Phillips Christian Church.

Vases of white chrysanthemums decorated the altar with fernery serving as a background. James Correll presided at the organ console and Miss Carol Jones was soloist.

Miss Vincent was given in marriage by her parents and for her wedding wore a floor length gown of white satin. A semi-scooped neckline and long sleeves on a molded bodice embellished with lace applique and pearls gave contrast to the full panel pleated skirt which swept to a chapel length train. Lace appliques and pearl embroidery also accented the front skirt panel. The gown was designed and fashioned by the mother of the bride.

A floral crown of silk held her finger-tip length veil of silk illusion and her flowers were Fuji chrysanthemums in cascade arrangement on a white nurses Bible.

Miss Charlene Vincent was her sister's maid of honor, and attendant was Mrs. Marvin Grooms of Cincinnati, nursing school roommate of the bride.

They wore street length dresses of red velvet with three-quarter length sleeves and scooped necklines. Their headpieces were matching circular crowns complete with flutter veils and their flowers were red-tipped carnations in cascade arrangement.

Serving Mr. Faulkner as best man was Albert Hodson of Toledo, Robert Hudson of Bingham, N. Y., Ailand Pope of Lincoln, Ill., and Leroy Whinnery of Salem were ushers.

Mrs. Vincent wore a blue and green brocade dress for her daughters wedding. The mother of the bridegroom wore a lace dress of light blue and both complemented their costumes with corsages of white carnations.

150 At Reception
Approximately 150 attended the reception in the church social rooms following the ceremony and were registered by Willie Doe Fredrixon of Lincoln, Ill., college roommate of the bride. Serving were Miss Judy Reynolds of Palestine, Ill., Mrs. Thomas Kubiak of Youngstown and Miss Janet Miller of Lee-tonia. Also assisting at the reception were aunts of the bride, Mrs. Orin Weaver, Mrs. Esther Miller, Mrs. John Doyle and Mrs. Edward Rea.

White bells topped the white four-tier cake which was the focal point of the white covered brides table lighted with white tapers in crystal holders.

Out of state guests were from Brannon, Mo., Lincoln, Ill., Rockford, Ill., Hammond, Ind., Crown Point, Ind., Baltimore, Md., Sharon, Pa., Grayson, Ky., and Binghampton, N. Y.

From the reception the couple left for a honeymoon to an undisclosed destination for which the bride wore a pastel blue wool sheath dress and the corsage from her bouquet. They will reside at 9704 North Alpine, Rockford, Ill.

A graduate of Salem Senior High School and Aultman Hospital School of Nursing, Canton, she attended Cincinnati Bible Seminary and Lincoln Christian College at Lincoln, Ill.

The bridegroom is serving as associate minister of Harlem Road Christian Church at Rockford, and is a graduate of Denver High School, Denver, Colo., and Lincoln Christian College.

City of Culture Is Theme of 2-Day Event

The Slovakian Dancers, a group of young people from Salem, will perform authentic dances representative of their nationality at the YWCA International Fair at 7 p.m. Thursday at the "Y".

Jelen of 885 Fair Ave., John Yuhanic, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Yuhanic of 945 Jennings Ave., Sandy Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jackson of 940 Barclay St., Mark Sobek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sobek of RD 1, Salem, and accordionist, Neil Csepke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Csepke of the Georgetown Road.

The fair, which opened today and will continue through Thursday evening, is being presented around the theme, "Salem - City of Culture," and in addition to the Slovakian Dancers Thursday, will present the Ukrainian Dancers of Youngstown at 7:30 this evening.

Displays of articles from the "mother" country will be made by 19 nationality groups, with a special display of "Dolls of All Nations."

THE "CHRISTMAS CAROLS," a group of 9th grade Y-Teens garbed in authentic old fashioned costumes complete with corner lamp, will represent "wandering minstrels" and will sing favorite Christmas carols both evenings.

Kenny Koons and his guitar will lead in a "Hootenanny" sing-along at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, when a buffet supper will be served at 5 and 6:30 p.m.

There is no admission fee to the fair and the committee in charge of the arrangements is hopeful the public will take advantage of this cultural event to attend.

Proceeds from the fair are used toward completion of payment for the "Y" building and the local chapter's share to the world fellowship participation.

Eagles Auxiliary Party Is Enjoyed

Glass Christmas tree ornaments on nests of pine tips and silver bowls of fresh fruit decorated the white covered tables lighted with branching candelabra holding lighted red and green candles which set the festive mood for the annual Christmas dinner of the Eagles Auxiliary Monday evening at Barnett's restaurant.

Mrs. John Ivan presided at the business session and was presented a gift from the auxiliary.

Members were reminded that donations to the bazaar and bake sale Saturday at Weir's wallpaper store are to be there by 9:30 a.m.

Following the dinner "white elephant" bingo was enjoyed. Mrs. Sadie Doyle, Mrs. Arthur Stark and Mrs. Stanley Rendzinski were the committee in charge of the arrangements for the occasion.

The group will meet again Monday at 8 p.m. at the lodge home when Mrs. Milton Marple, Mrs. Clyde Stoffer and Mrs. Alverda Blythe will be in charge of refreshments.

Neva Kitzmiller Wedding Set Dec. 22

The 3 p.m. ceremony will be performed at the Sebring Church of Christ. A reception will follow immediately in the church basement.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I visited a family that had a most wonderful idea. This is a particularly good idea when budgeting is necessary and many Christmas presents have to be bought.

Each member of the family takes a dollar and goes to a 10-cent store and we see how many different things we can buy for each others Christmas stocking!

You will be surprised how many useful items you can find. My husband received a package of razor blades, some leaders and weights for fishing, a small package of facial tissue for his pocket and I got a lot of little things which I use every day.

As an example: Emery boards, finger nail polish remover, bobby pins, eyebrow pencil, scouring pad, some pencils, a tooth brush, etc.

You have no idea how much fun this is. Children absolutely love the idea.

SELMA SCOTT.

DEAR HELOISE: For mothers who dislike getting up during the night with the baby:

I took the casters off the legs of my baby crib and put on four heavy springs. Every time the baby moves... the crib rocks! And the baby rocks himself back to sleep.

This method starts a new baby to sleep all night much, much, much earlier. It's worked for all of my four children. These springs may be bought at any store.

RUTH DUDKREWICZ.

DEAR HELOISE: Since feathered hats are popular, this may interest some readers.

I have a black hat with a ring of soft feathers around the entire hat. It annoys me no end when I wore it on a windy day and the feathers blew every which way, giving the hat a very untidy appearance.

Now before I wear it, I spray the feathers with hair spray and all feathers stay in place perfectly!

MRS. P.R.

Be SURE TO SPOT TEST with your particular brand of hair spray first. I don't know what brand you use. But it is a wonderful idea. I just tried it.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a suggestion. I had my coat shortened nearly two inches. I told the tailor to save the material for me.

I trimmed a hat with this band of extra material and it matches my coat perfectly. This could also be done with any dress.

ROSE BLACK.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER
DEAR HELOISE: We have a Christmas problem coming up that may find its answer among some of your readers.

We've had young dogs in the past who thought that bringing in a Christmas tree was very thoughtful... especially when there was snow outside! We finally taught them that life was not that easy.

Now we have a kitten and he's never seen a Christmas tree. What a tree to climb! What lovely colored balls to bat round and what could be more fun for a teen-age cat?

We certainly cannot lock him in another room for the Holidays so... what do we do to keep him at his distance when the tree is up?

ELIZABETH GELLATLY.

DEAR HELOISE: Try using empty baby food jars behind the radiators in the winter.

Fill them with water in or-up, wipe the mirror with the used towel!

When the bathroom "dries-out" the mirror will be spotless with no effort at all. The room gets "aired out" before the mirror is wiped off just take the damp towel and wipe it. Works too.

MRS. K.

DEAR HELOISE: I got so sick of spotted asphalt floors near both my kitchen doors, and on the hardwood near my front door. I finally found that I could take a newspaper (after cutting your column out), fold it in half and lay one by each door. Now my family puts overshoes and umbrellas on the paper and hang their raincoats above, thus preventing spots on my floors. Makes no difference whether it's January or June. When a quick rain comes up always throw newspapers in front of your doors to eliminate the marks on your floors...

DISGUSTED WITH SPOTS.

DEAR HELOISE: If rubber overshoes have worn thin and are slippery when walking on icy streets, it is a good idea to glue a piece of VERY ROUGH sandpaper on the bottom with a good grade of glue. This may prevent a dangerous fall.

KENSINGTON — Lloyd R. Pilmer, 68, died at 5 p.m. Monday at Mercy Hospital in Canton. He had been in ill health for the past year.

Born Oct. 28, 1895, near Hanover, he was the son of the late James and Flora Conser Pilmer.

A veteran of World War I, he had been employed by the Republic Steel Corp. of Canton. Survivors are a brother, Truman Pilmer of Lisbon, and a half-sister, Mrs. Grace Bush of Hamilton.

tion of business and industry.

The President called in the chairmen of the Federal Communications Commission, Interstate Commerce Commission, Federal Power Commission, Securities and Exchange Commission, and a dozen other regulatory agencies. He told them he will continue "the battle against substitution of government's interest for the public interest."

"We are challenged to elevate our sights, to measure our performance by quality rather than quantity, to concern ourselves with new areas of cooperation before we concern ourselves with new areas of control, to take pride in how much we do rather than how much there is to do," said Johnson.

od of France's grandeur, Mrs. Kennedy will be in an atmosphere not unlike what she created in the White House.

The history books of Georgetown indicate this house dates back to the same period as the mansion at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. which Mrs. Kennedy is vacating after almost three years.

It is said to have been built in 1800, the same year President John Adams moved into the unfinished White House.

It was announced Tuesday that Mrs. Kennedy will move in Friday. There is no indication when President Johnson and his family will take occupancy of the White House, but probably soon.

The Harrimans, who once occupied the governor's mansion in Albany, N.Y., bought the Georgetown home last spring. Its prior owner was William Scranton, now governor of Pennsylvania.

Salem, Beloit Drivers Collide In Westville

Salem and Beloit area motorists collided Tuesday at 4:20 p.m. on Route 62 at Westville, but neither was injured.

The Lisbon barracks of the State Highway Patrol said Donald Lee Lanham, 25, of RD 2, Beloit, pulled from Route 173 and struck the side of an auto proceeding west and operated by Robert W. Bryan, 27, of 270 N. Lincoln Ave., Salem. Lanham was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Water

"As long as Cold Run is running good, we will still draw our base supply from it."

Thompson remarked that the water from Beaver Creek is "harder" water than the water in Cold Run but added that when it is diluted with Cold Run water at the city lake, it will be easier to treat.

He explained that the main reason for asking for the auxiliary supply is because the city has an ever-increasing demand for water due to industrial and residential expansion.

Guilford Plan Hit Snag
Council's action last night to get more water into the city system follows on the footsteps of what may be a stumbling block in the city's bid to obtain over-flow water from Guilford Lake.

At a meeting Monday, residents near Guilford organized the Guilford Lake Civic Assn. to oppose Salems request for water from the state-owned lake.

IN OTHER ACTION LAST night, Council passed four routine money transfer ordinances and adopted three resolutions lauding civic and religious associations in the city.

The first resolution expressed the appreciation of the Council and the city to the Salem Ministerial Association for the continued support and aid rendered by that group. Members of the association are present at all meetings of the city fathers to give the opening prayer.

The other two resolutions lauded the Upper Columbiana County AFL-CIO Labor Council and the Salem Kiwanis Club for their cooperation and aid in the purchase of railroad-type cross gates to be used by the school safety patrol.

The Labor Council purchased the initial set, which was used for testing at the Fourth Street school while the Kiwanis Club supplied gates for the rest of the crossings.

Mayor Dean B. Cranmer read to Council a letter from Police Chief Martin Lutsch notifying him that the radio equipment in his department is beyond further repair and needs to be replaced.

A member of the Motorola Corporation was present and told the legislators it would cost $1,816 to replace the two mobile units which are used in the police cruisers and the base unit at City Hall.

A breakdown of the $1,816 shows that the two mobile units, with a $35 trade-in allowance on each for radios currently in use, would be $424 each with the remaining $968 being the cost of the base unit after a $250 trade-in allowance on the old one.

The mayor urged Council to pass an ordinance which would permit the purchase of the mobile units immediately, with the purchase of the base unit to be considered at a later date.

Council, however, after much discussion and a brief recess, decided to refer the matter to the safety committee which will meet with Edward Mallory, who will become safety director Dec. 16.

Council also authorized the Civil Defense director to purchase a series of 10 films entitled "The Home Nursing Story" for the Salem Red Cross. The films will be available for use by all civic organizations as well as area schools.

Bob Kennedy Resumes Duties

WASHINGTON (AP — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy returned today to the job his assassinated brother gave him and President Johnson asked him to keep.

The 38-year-old attorney general went to his Justice Department office shortly before 10 a.m. to resume his duties as the nation's chief law enforcement officer.

He has been resting with his wife and friends in Florida since the days following the slaying of President John F. Kennedy Nov. 22.

The attorney general continues to be looked on by thousands of American Negroes as a leading champion of equal rights. And President Johnson is expected to rely heavily on him in carrying forward the civil rights program inherited from the dead President, brother of the attorney general.

His associates predict that Kennedy will stay on the job through at least the near future to see such projects progress.

Vacations are another subject hit upon by Koenreich. "There should be a vacation schedule for all departments so that not more employees are away from the job at one time than can be spared." He said that there is now law saying how long vacations are for or how long a person must be employed by the city before he is allowed a vacation.

Koenreich, a veteran councilman who did not seek re-election, said he realizes the present Council can not do anything with the recommendation but he asked that Council President Ford Joseph Jr. present it to the following Council for consideration. Joseph said he would.

Pope

Today his words were a clearer expression of support.

The Pope promulgated the liturgy decree after the council accepted it by a vote of 2,147-4.

The document was Roman Catholicism's first council decree since a Vatican council proclaimed the dogma of papal infallibility in 1870.

A council press office background paper estimated it would take 7-10 years to implement the liturgical reforms.

The 12,000-word decree represents the most far-reaching change in Roman rite liturgy since the 3rd Century when Latin replaced Greek in the Western church.

Among other things, the decree grants permission for the use of Latin in the Mass and use of modern languages in Sacraments.

American bishops announced they would make full use of the permission to substitute English for Latin. They said they planned to meet next spring to approve English translations.

Substitution of modern languages for Latin and other major points of the decree were made known in summary form during the past month of council debate.

With the distribution of the full text today, other details became known.

Its opening paragraph said the council "desires to impart an ever increasing vigor to the Christian life of the faithful; to adapt more suitably to the needs of our own times those institutions which are subject to change; to foster whatever can promote union among all who believe in Christ; to strengthen whatever can help to call the whole of mankind into the household of the Church."

"The council therefore sees particularly cogent reasons for undertaking the reform and promotion of the liturgy," the document said.

The decree deals only with Roman Catholic worship, but it emphasizes the importance of Scripture in liturgy and advocates more preaching.

Scripture and preaching are strongly emphasized by Protestants. Some non-Catholics feel Catholicism does not pay sufficient attention to them.

The decree sets general principles and guidelines. Special liturgical commissions, set up by national and regional bishops' conferences, will work out the actual changes, including prayers and other texts in modern languages. Commission proposals will go to the Vatican for final approval.

Two Lisbon area motorists were uninjured in a two-vehicle mishap on wet, slippery Route 30, six-tenths of a mile west of the county seat, Tuesday at 5 p.m.

The Lisbon Patrol said Patricia Ann Jarman, 19, of RD 1, Lisbon was driving west and slowed for a curve when her auto was hit from behind by a farm truck driven by Alfred E. Anrullis, 35, of RD 1, Lisbon. Anrullis was arrested for speed excessive for conditions.

proval of the bond proposal Tuesday, all senators—Republicans and Democrats—were called into an unusual single "caucus" to hear State Highway Director P. E. Masheter explain it. Public and press were excluded.

Senate Favorable To Bill
The Senate seems to look favorably on the House-passed bill dealing with "Golden Age Villages," also an administrative measure.

Time ran out on essentially the same bill five months ago, when state lawmakers went home before the Senate could consider it.

It would permit sale of state land—especially on or close to the grounds of mental hospitals—to metropolitan housing authorities to erect living units for perhaps as many as 3,000 non-psychotic patients.

Supporters say it would permit these persons to live in a normal community atmosphere, yet close to regular professional care. The present $3,000 yearly income ceiling would be removed, and authorities would be given permission to determine the maximum allowable income.

A law setting up a three-member board for the program went into effect nearly 2½ months ago. But the State Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, while discussing the possibility of letting various housing authorities build the units and lease them to the state, has been waiting to see what the legislature would do.

Columbus, Toledo, Massillon and Dayton-Cincinnati are considered likely initial sites if the bill is approved.

Passes School Site Bill
Without opposition, the House passed a bill to let Morgan County commissioners convey 65 acres around the County Home to the local Board of Education for a high school site. It goes to the Senate.

Representatives also approved, 93-35, and sent to the Senate, a bill which would prevent public disclosure of financial information submitted to Ohio's Development Financing Commission by companies seeking loans to locate or expand facilities in Ohio.

Santa and the Haunted House

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Three children, Jeremy, Sissy and Miss Joe, were alone in their house when a Storyteller came by and offered to tell them a story.

(Chapter Two)

NOG — THE BUGABOO

Once upon a time, began the Storyteller, there lived an evil Bugaboo in far away Santa Land.

"Oh, no," said Sissy, sitting at the Storyteller's feet. "Only good creatures live in Santa Land. They are Santa's helpers. Even the imps and goblins are good."

"ush, Sissy," said Jeremy, poking her with his elbow. "He knows the story."

THE STORYTELLER opened his eyes and gazed at Sissy. "You are right," he said gently. "Only good creatures live in Santa Land ordinarily. But it is not always so. And the time I am telling about there was a very wicked Bugaboo there."

Miss Jo gripped brother Jeremy's arm and swallowed. "What was his name?"

"Nog," said the Storyteller. He closed his eyes and was silent as though he had been overcome by the very name of the wicked fiend. Finally, he began again.

In the first place, he said, Nog did not belong in Santa Land. He had always been a problem Bugaboo. The Queen Fairy who is responsible for these things placed him in Santa Land because she simply didn't know what else to do with him.

SHE TRIED HAVING him work in the Weather Factory which manufactures storms but Nog was always fouling things up. He pushed buttons that made snow storms in August. He sent showers of hail down at inappropriate moments—like at someone's special birthday party. And one time he hid the key to the sun closet and the sun didn't shine for seven whole weeks. Not once.

Of course, you can't have things like that going on, so the Queen Fairy sent Nog to work with the Halloween witches, thinking if he were so tricky he might as well be useful while he was at it.

But Nog did things no spook or ghoul would ever have done. On Halloween he would catch people's cats and hang them up by their tails. He would take from them and fill up their bags with stones. He would tie up old ladies' doors so they could never get out of their homes—not even if there was a fire.

Well, he was giving the Witches a terrible name, you can imagine, so finally the Witches went to the Queen Fairy and said: "Look, you have to take Nog back. He's ruining us."

THE QUEEN FAIRY was at her wit's end because she didn't know what to do with him. And Bugaboos never die, you know, so Nog was going to be around forever. Then, one day at a party, the Queen Fairy was eating ice cream with Santa Claus and she told him about the problem.

Santa said, "Why don't you send Nog to Santa Land?"

"Oh my goodness," exclaimed the Queen. "He would absolutely destroy Christmas!"

SANTA TOOK a second helping of peppermint ice cream. When he had finished it he wiped his mouth with a big red handkerchief and said cheerfully, "I think I can handle him. Why not give it a try?"

There wasn't anything else the Queen Fairy could do BUT give it a try so she sent Nog off to Santa Land and hoped for the best.

Now Nog was a purple-faced, toothless, hairless, bottle-shaped creature about as high as Santa's knee. Seeing him with Santa—so big and strong and jolly—you really would have thought Santa could handle him.

But oh, my! The Storyteller paused and rolled his eyes towards the ceiling.

"What happened? What happened?" chorused the children. Well, said the Storyteller. That Bugaboo made a SHAMBLES of Santa Land!

Cooking Is Fun

NEW SPANISH RICE

1 can (1 pound and 3 or 4 ounces) tomatoes, Water, 1 cup converted-type rice, 1 envelope soup mix with pieces of chicken, ½ green pepper, cut into strips, ½ cup grated cheddar cheese, not packed down.

Drain and break up tomatoes. Add enough water to tomato liquid to make 2½ cups. Mix together the tomatoes, uncooked rice, soup mix (just as it comes from the envelope) and green pepper strips in a 1½-quart casserole. Pour in tomato liquid; cover.

Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees), stirring occasionally, until rice is tender, 40 to 60 minutes. Sprinkle mixture with grated cheese. Bake, uncovered, until cheese is melted, about 5 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

APPLE CHEESE PIE

Pastry for 2-crust 9-inch pie, ½ cup grated cheddar cheese, 1 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon flour, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, 7 cups sliced pared apples, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine.

Roll out half the pastry and line pie plate with it. Roll out remaining pastry; sprinkle with grated cheese fold over in 3 layers; roll out again. Cut into 5 strips, each 10 inches long and ¾ inch wide.

Mix together the sugar, flour, nutmeg and cinnamon; toss with apples. Turn into lined pie plate. Dot with butter. Weave strips, lattice fashion, over pie; trim, turn under or over and flute edge.

Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven until apples are tender—40 to 45 minutes. You may wish to put a strip of foil around pie edge to avoid over-browning for first half-hour of baking.

LIVER AND ONIONS

1 pound liver, sliced ½-inch thick, 2 tablespoons flour, Salt and pepper, 3 medium onions, cut into thick strips (about 3 cups), 2 tablespoons butter, 1 to 2 tablespoons salad oil.

Remove skin from outside of liver slices; cut into 1½-inch squares removing tubers. Mix together the flour, 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper; coat liver with mixture.

Heat butter in a 9- or 10-inch skillet; add onions and cook very slowly, stirring often, until tender-crisp or very soft (to suit taste); add salt and pepper to taste.

Remove onions and keep warm. Heat the oil in the skillet; add liver and cook over moderate heat until brown and barely cooked through; to turn easily, use a wide spatula.

Cleveland Will Try To Shake Detroit Jinx Sunday

Browns Risk Division Lead

Lost To Lions 24-10 In Exhibition Game

CLEVELAND (AP) — When the Cleveland Browns take on the Lions in Detroit Sunday they will be trying to do something only one Cleveland team has done since the Browns got a National Football League franchise in 1950.

Under ex-coach Paul Brown, Cleveland won just one game against the Lions that counted—56-10 in the NFL championship game in 1954.

The Lions have captured all four regular season games played over the years and three times toppled Cleveland in title bouts. That fact does not auger well for the Browns, who are tied for first with New York in the Eastern Division with two games to play.

Browns Coach Blanton Collier will be making his regular season debut against Detroit Sunday. The Browns lost to Detroit 24-10 last August in an exhibition game, Collier's first as coach.

But in the last few months, Detroit has been beset by injuries to key players. Milt Plum injured a knee in the opening exhibition game, recovered but never regained his throwing touch after missing most of the pre-season play.

Out for the season for the Lions are line backer Carl Brettschneider, flanker Pat Studstill, defensive back Gary Lowe and rookie halfback Larry Ferguson.

"There have been some bright spots," Lions Coach George Wilson said during a break at the NFL draft in Chicago Monday. "Earl Morrill has come through in great shape at quarterback."

"We have Joe Schmidt back. He seems completely recovered from that collarbone injury. And we may have found a first-rate line backer in Ernie Clark."

Morrill has risen high in the NFL statistics after a poor start.

The Lions are out of the race but are on the rebound, having tied the mighty Green Bay Packers Thanksgiving Day, 13-13.

After three losses in four games, the Browns bounced back to win their last two, over Dallas and St. Louis. Against the Cards last Sunday, they showed the form approaching that which they displayed in winning six straight at the start of the season.

Griffith Is Given Boxer Of Year Award

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP) — "This is the greatest honor you can get in boxing. I hope to live up to it this year and every year."

So said welterweight champion Emile Griffith today when told the Boxing Writers' Association had selected him to receive the Edward J. Neil Memorial trophy as the Boxer of the Year. "I'm embarrassed but grateful," said Harry Markson, director of boxing for Madison Square Garden when notified he had been chosen for the James J. Walker Memorial Plaque, awarded annually "for long and meritorious service to boxing."

The writers also named two veterans of the sport, Philadelphia promoter Herman Taylor and Dennis (Dinty) McMahon, chairman of the Connecticut State Athletic Commission, to receive special awards.

All will be presented with their awards at the BWA's annual dinner Jan. 12.

Griffith, a native of the Virgin Islands and now a New Yorker, is the only boxer to win the welterweight crown three times. In two title bouts this year he lost and then won in 15-rounders with Luis Rodriguez of Cuba and Miami.

His record is 37-4, including 14 knockouts. A busy fighter, he will meet middleweight contender Rubin Carter of Paterson, N.J., in a non-title 10-rounder at Pittsburgh Dec. 20.

Griffith, 24, is the sole support of his mother and seven brothers and sisters. He is a leader in youth activities, working closely with the Police Athletic League.

The Neil trophy is named in memory of the former Associated Press boxing writer who was killed while covering the Spanish Civil War in 1938.

United Travels To Minerva To Open 1963-64 Basketball Season Friday

An acid test awaits United when it travels to Minerva to open its 1963-64 basketball season Friday.

Both schools have four lettermen back, but the Lions will have a slight height advantage. Last year, the Tri-County unit knocked off the Golden Eagles 49-44 the second clash of the campaign.

Ken Votaw, 6-0 senior, was the leading scorer for United a year ago when he tallied over 200 points. He is one of the four back for another season.

Bill McGranahan, 5-11 senior, was second in the scoring column, also over 200 points. Other probable starters are monogram winners Homer Sturgeon, 5-11 junior, and Gene Metzger, 5-7 junior. Ronnie Wickersham, 6-1 senior, is the tallest man on the unit.

COACH JACK MILLS, who is coming out of semi-retirement, formerly led teams at Lisbon and Stewart Air Force Base, N. Y.

Minerva's probable starters include seniors Bill Swinehart,

6-1; Dave Simms, 5-10; Frank Marchetti, 6-3; and juniors Dan Baxter, 5-10; and Denny Clapper, 5-10.

Last season United finished with a 7-11 record, while Minerva ended up with a 10-9 record.

Following the Minerva game, United will play its first home contest against Sebring Saturday. The Golden Eagles entertain Crestview, Dec. 13; then travel to Leetonia Dec. 14, and Lisbon Dec. 20, before finishing up the 1963 part of the slate at home with Columbiana Dec. 21.

Coach Mills and his aggregation resume action at home, following the holiday season, with Malvern Jan. 3; and Southern Local Jan. 4. Jackson-Milton will entertain the Golden Eagles in a Turnpike Conference clash Jan. 10.

IN ANOTHER LOOP clash, United is home to Canfield Jan. 17, then hits the road for North Lima Jan. 18, and Greenford Jan. 24. The Golden Eagles will play host to Stanton Local Jan. 25; and Beaver Local Jan. 31.

A road trip to Carrollton is scheduled Feb. 8, then a home date with Warren St. Marys Feb. 8. The Golden Eagles' last away game of the campaign is at West Branch Feb. 14, and then the Millsmen end the season at home against East Canton Feb. 15.

Minerva's slate includes home games with United, Friday; East Palestine, Dec. 13; West Branch, Dec. 14; Poland, Jan. 3; Columbiana, Jan. 11; Sebring, Jan. 17; Louisville, Feb. 1; Leetonia, Feb. 7; and Lisbon, Feb. 15.

The Lions travel to Carrollton, Dec. 27; Louisville, Jan. 4; Lisbon, Jan. 18; East Palestine, Jan. 24; Poland, Jan. 31; Columbiana, Feb. 8; and Sebring, Feb. 14.

Brown, Tittle Snap Records In NFL League

NEW YORK (AP) — Y. A. Tittle and Jimmy Brown each snapped one of the more covered records in the National Football League book Sunday, and retained their leads in NFL passing and rushing.

Johnny Unitas of Baltimore made the biggest advance in the statistical tables, released today. He jumped from fourth to second among the passers, on a fine performance against the Washington Redskins.

Old Y. A. threw two touchdown passes as the New York Giants scratched out a comeback victory over the Dallas Cowboys, and set a career record in that department. He now has 197, one more than Bobby Layne threw in a long career at New York, Detroit and Pittsburgh.

Brown ran for 179 yards in the big Cleveland victory over St. Louis, and made his season total 1,677, with two games left. He set the old record, 1,527 yards in 1958.

Brown also scored twice to take over the scoring lead with 90 points on 15 touchdowns.

Bobby Joe Conrad of St. Louis is retained the leading pass receiver with 60 for 763 yards. Bobby Mitchell of Washington has the most yardage, 1,140 and Terry Barr of Detroit leads in touchdown passes with 11.

West Branch Gym Dedication Dec. 15

Clinton Heacock, executive head of West Branch School District, reported today the public dedication ceremonies for the new $310,000 gym adjoining the new high school will be held Dec. 15 at 2 p.m.

Several hundred district residents are expected to attend the event, plans for which are now being completed by Heacock and his staff.

The new gym seating 1,800 thus far has been the scene only of a four-team preview including the Warriors. The first season game on the floor will be against the Lisbon Blue Devils Saturday.

Oklahoma Grid Star Voted Back Of Week

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — A wild man on the football field, but gentle as a lamb in person—that's Oklahoma fullback Jim Grisham. The Associated Press' college football back of the week.

A typical Grisham post-game comment came Saturday after he shattered a school rushing record by gaining 218 yards and scored four touchdowns against arch-rival Oklahoma State in a 34-10 victory.

"There ought to be a yardage column for the blockers," he said modestly. "Our line was really blowing them out of there. All I had to do was stroll through the holes."

The 211-pound junior from Olney, Tex., has scored 16 touchdowns and gained 1,572 yards rushing in his first two varsity years.

Tribe Trades Kirkland For Al Smith

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles traded outfielder Al Smith to the Cleveland Indians for outfielder Willie Kirkland today. The Orioles also paid an undisclosed amount of cash.

Smith, 35, batted .272 last season, with 10 home runs and 39 runs batted in.

Kirkland, 28, hit .230, with 15 home runs and 47 RBI. The acquisition of Smith gives Cleveland its only right-handed hitting outfielder. Kirkland is a left-handed hitter.

Smith broke into the majors with Cleveland in 1953 and was traded to the Chicago White Sox in 1958.

Cleveland acquired Kirkland from the San Francisco Giants at the end of the 1960 season, but he never lived up to expectations.

Missed Kickoff Features Grid Oddities For '63 Campaign

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — With 25,000 youngsters cavorting over Ohio's high school grid-irons each fall, some odd incidents are bound to occur.

The 1963 scholastic campaign was no exception. For instance: Ada and Lima Bath were poised for the kickoff. The Ada kicker rushed forward and swung his leg with a mighty effort. The Ada team swarmed downfield to halt the receiver in his tracks. The Bath boys started blocking everyone in sight, clearing a way for the return.

Then action stopped. The ball was still on the tee, back on Ada's 40-yard line. The kicker had missed it completely.

Jim Dutey, Coal Grove's highly successful coach, had one of those exasperating experiences. He led his boys to an unbeaten season—then found he had used an ineligible player through the entire schedule and was forced to forfeit all the victories.

Bob Bardash of Louisville set some kind of a record last year when he ran for 44 points on 22 two-point conversions. This year

Bill Givens of Louisville duplicated the feat—44 points on 22 two-point conversion runs. And Bob Gladieux, Louisville's sensational junior halfback, scored 11 of his 18 touchdowns on runs of more than 30 yards. The longest was 84, and more than that number of college coaches have an eye on him.

The Northern Ohio League just couldn't name a champion. Willard, Bucyrus and Bellevue wound up in a 6-1 tie for the laurels—first deadlock in the loop's history.

Like Tony Crosby of Texas' national champions, Balde Velasquez of Pandora-Gilboa kicks 'em barefooted. He booted 11 of 17 extra points and a 29-yard field goal with his unprotected tootsies.

Miami Trace of Washington Court House lost 10 of its 11 starters due to injuries, five for the season—and altogether 16 youngsters were shelved for half the campaign. The record was 5-5, and Coach Dan O'Brien hopes he's had all his bad luck in one lump.

Jim Poulton had better luck at Spencerville. He took the team over just two weeks before the opening game and piloted it to a 10-0 campaign.

Paul Ponzuric of Coldwater lost to Kenton the hard way. The final score was 10-8, with two safeties giving Kenton the winning margin. Both two-pointers came when the Coldwater center passed the ball far over the punter's head and into the end zone—twice.

Frank Terry, Dola Hardin Northern linebacker, was a bit upset when his team was 28-0 behind Lima Bath in the late minutes. So he decided to do something about it. He broke through, grabbed the pigskin from the arms of a surprised Bath ball-carrier, and scooted 45 yards for touchdown. Final score was 28-6—but Terry had made his point.

Middies Seek 5th Straight Against Army

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Navy will feature not only quarterback Roger Staubach, but an unusually strong supporting cast when the Middies seek their fifth straight victory over Army in Philadelphia Saturday.

Coach Wayne Hardin, who has spent most of this year promoting Staubach as the nation's outstanding college football player, talked Tuesday about the teammates who helped him win the Heisman Trophy.

Most of them have played in Staubach's shadow. Several probably would have picked up post-season honors on their own had it not been for publicity surrounding the spectacular quarterback.

Chief among the "other guys" who have boosted Navy to No. 2 national ranking and have gone virtually unnoticed is Pat Donnelly, 200-pound junior fullback from Maumee, Ohio, the team's leading ground gainer for two straight seasons.

Another number you might watch in the Navy backfield Saturday in addition to Staubach's 12 and Donnelly's 38 is the 48 worn by stumpy left half John Sai.

Sai, a senior from Oakdale, Calif., will be playing his last Army-Navy game. He is a 9.7 sprinter on the track team and dashed 93 yards for a touchdown through the Duke line to clinch a 38-25 Navy victory in its last game before Army. He is Navy's leading scorer with 10 touchdowns and is called to get the short yardage when it's needed.

Staubach's leading pass receiver is Ed (Skip) Orr, a 183-pound junior from Wantagh, New York, who has caught 23 passes for 301 yards and one touchdown.

Right wingman Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings is in his 18th National Hockey League season. He is 35 and has been the league's most valuable player six times.

Milwaukee, San Francisco Swap 7 Baseball Players

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN DIEGO (AP)—"The perfect trade."

This is what baseball observers called the seven-player swap that sent Milwaukee catcher Del Crandall and pitchers Bob Hendley and Bob Shaw to the San Francisco Giants for star outfielder Felipe Alou, catcher, Ed Bailey, pitcher Billy Hoelt and a fourth player to be named later.

The transaction completed Tuesday night was the second major trade made at the winter baseball meetings, which moves from the present minor league headquarters here to Los Angeles Thursday for the major league sessions.

Giants and Braves officials expressed complete satisfaction with the trade, which they claimed filled in all the spots.

The rival managers were no less enthusiastic.

"We've got a more versatile club than any time since I've been manager," said the Braves' Bobby Bragan. "This really gives us some punch. We picked up 150 RBIs and 41 home runs. Now I think we've got the best 1-2 catcher combination in baseball with Joe Torre and Bailey."

"We gave up a good ball player (Alou) to get two pitchers. Hendley and Shaw are the heart of the deal. But now, with Crandall, we've also got left (Tom Haller) and right-handed hitting catchers," said Giants' skipper Alvin Dark.

Alou was the big man in the deal. The 82-year-old right handed hitting slugger batted .281 with 20 home runs and 82 runs batted in last season. He will play center field for the Braves, flanked by Henry Aaron in right and either Lee Maye or Eddie Mathews in left.

Bailey, a 32-year-old left-handed hitting All-Star catcher, had 21 homers and 68 RBIs on a .263 batting average.

Hoelt, a 31-year-old southpaw, nursed a sore shoulder all last season and pitched only 24 innings.

Hendley, 24, had a 9-9 record with a 3.94 earned run average.

He hurled three shutouts and has much promise. Sawh, 30-year-old right-handed starter turned reliever last season, finished with a 7-11 record, but posted a 2.66 ERA in 8 games, striking out nearly twice as many as he walked. Crandall, 33, batted .201 in 86 games. He is a veteran of 14 years in the National League with five years as an All-Star.

16 Major Colleges Score 100 Or More Points In 1st 3 Days Of Cage Action

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
No, they haven't lowered the basket, widened the hoop or streamlined the ball, but college basketball's new timing rule may have served the same purpose—ushering in an era of the 100-point game.

Where 100-point games used to be fairly rare, they have become rather common in the first few days of the 1963-64 season. All as it was before, the teams, the players, the arenas and the equipment. Only the rules have been changed.

The new rule dictates that the clock will stop automatically when the ball goes out-of-bounds. This apparently is adding actual playing time, and providing more time to score. Even against the usual, early-season opposition, witness Tuesday night's proceedings:

Sixth-ranked Arizona State, admittedly strong, rolled up 121 points to 79 for a New Mexico Western team not in the same class, but hardly considered a weak opponent.

—Miami of Florida whipped Tampa 101-95, Auburn walloped Howard 102-44 and Oklahoma thumped South Dakota 100-79, with the Sooners setting a school record.

—Baylor missed the 100-mark by two points in beating Arlington State 98-74, but ran up its highest point total in history.

—And Oklahoma State, Hank Iba's slow-down types for whom 50 is a harvest, defeated Southern Illinois 83-54 for their fifth highest score in history.

—For three days of action, 16 major college teams now have hit 100 or more points. West Texas State is tops so far, with 126.

They weren't all like that Tuesday.

Tenth-ranked Oregon State defeated Washington State 75-

58, Minnesota needed a second half rally to down Iowa State 61-50, Vanderbilt came with a closing rush to subdue SMU 79-60 and Stanford downed Oregon 83-65 as Tom Dose collected 26 points.

Clemson went into double overtime before edging North Carolina 66-64 in an Atlantic Coast Conference game on Mike Bohonak's jump shot with two seconds left. Willie Somerset's 28 points and final two foul shots with 10 seconds left carried Duquesne to an 83-79 decision over St. Francis, Pa., and Seton Hall edged Catholic U. 69-67 in overtime on Richie Dek's tap in at the buzzer.

In other games, it was Kansas State 87, South Dakota State 59; Marquette 74, North Dakota 65; Florida 78, Florida State 55; St. John's, N.Y. 82, George Washington 64; Navy 77, Baltimore 60; Montana State 68, Nevada 54; Creighton 72, Hardin-Simmons 58; Richmond 71, East Carolina 67; William and Mary 81, Hampden-Sydney 49 and Holy Cross 87, St. Michael's, Vt., 69.

Post Office, Concrete Win At Volleyball

Salem Concrete and the Post Office posted 3-0 victories, while Electric Furnace Office triumphed 2-1 in City Volleyball League action Tuesday night.

Today's action finds Jacobites in a skirmish with Camp's Service at 5:30, United Eagles battles Electric Furnace Office at 6:15 p.m. and Salem Concrete faces Post Office at 7 p.m.

Post Office clipped Electric Furnace Engineering 15-11, 15-6 and 15-13. The Concrete unit knocked off Jacobites 15-3, 15-6 and 15-10. Electric Furnace took the first two tilts 15-1 and 15-3, then dropped a 13-10 decision to Camp's.

The colt Ishkoodah, a $15,000 Florida yearling buy, is an Indian name meaning "ball of fire."

football last week turned out to be twins.

In a rare occurrence, Lineman of the Week honors are shared today by a pair of behemoths from the Big Ten Conference—linebacker Dick Butkus of Illinois and tackle Carl Eller of Minnesota.

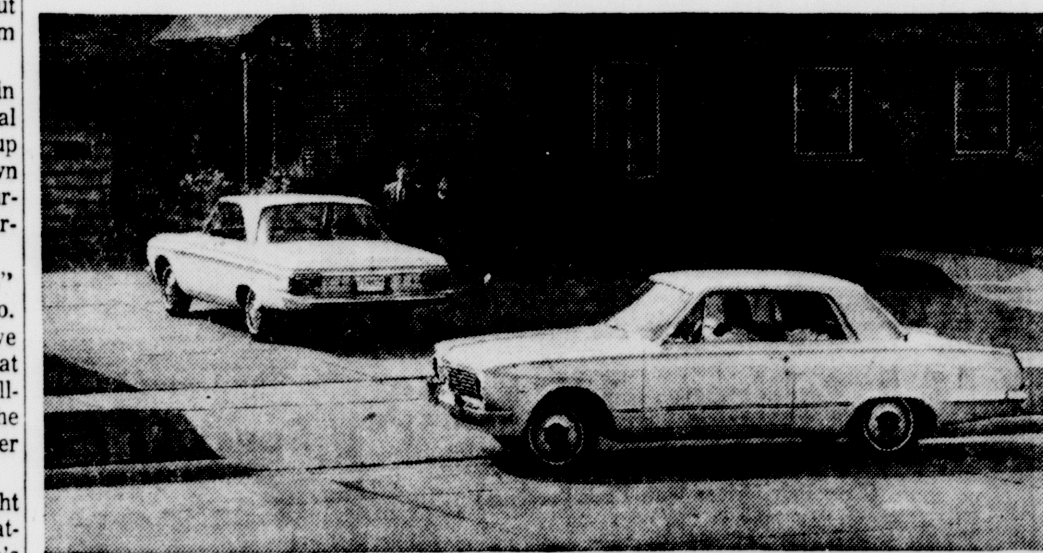

Both were so outstanding in leading their teams to important Thanksgiving Day victories that it was impossible to award one the edge. So for the first time this season they were selected by The Associated Press to share jointly the mythical laurel wreath that goes to the normally unsung defenseman.

Butkus, 6-foot-3, 234-pound junior center from Chicago, was described as a "One Man Gang" in Illinois' 13-0 triumph over Michigan State at East Lansing that brought the Illini the Big Ten championship and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

Eller, 6-5, 245-pound tackle from Winston-Salem, N.C., proved to be a ton of dynamite

Holiday Layer Cake

By GAYNOR MADDOX

For a festive holiday brunch or a thoughtful gift to a good neighbor for her Christmas breakfast, this tender, moist coffee cake with crunchy topping is a happy choice.

Frozen orange juice concentrate, brown sugar, cinnamon, raisins and walnuts, make it particularly good. It has that "Merry Christmas" appeal.

ORANGE COFFEE CAKE

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 3½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 cup shortening, 1-3 cup sugar, 2 eggs, ½ cup milk, 1-3 cup frozen concentrated orange juice, ½ cup chopped walnuts, ½ cup chopped raisins, ½ cup firmly packed brown sugar, 2 teaspoons ground cinnamon, 2 tablespoons butter, melted, 2 tablespoons frozen concentrated orange juice, 1 tablespoon sugar.

Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Cream shortening; gradually add 1-3 cup sugar, and continue creaming until light and fluffy.

Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Add flour, alternating with milk and 1-3 cup concentrated orange juice, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Stir in walnuts and raisins. Pour into a greased 9-inch square pan. Mix brown sugar and cinnamon and sprinkle over top of batter.

Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 10 minutes. Combine melted butter, 2 tablespoons concentrated orange juice, and 1 tablespoon sugar.

Spoon over top of coffee cake; bake an additional 15 to 20 minutes.

it uses evaporated milk rather than whipped cream.

When we tried the recipe, we found the filling set so rapidly that we were able to serve the dessert shortly after it was made.

CHOCOLATE CHIFFON PIE

1 envelope unflavored gelatin, 1-3 cup cold water, ½ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tall can (15 ounces) evaporated milk, 1 package (6 ounces or 1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ teaspoon cream of tartar, 9-inch Crumb Crust.

In a 2½ - quart saucepan, sprinkle the gelatin over the cold water. Mix in well the sugar, salt, 2-3 cup of the undiluted evaporated milk and the chocolate. Stir constantly over low heat until gelatin dissolves and chocolate melts—5 or 6 minutes.

Remove from heat; beat with a rotary beater until chocolate is blended. Stir in vanilla. Refrigerate, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon—about 15 minutes.

Meanwhile pour remaining undiluted evaporated milk into ice-cube tray and place in freezer until ice crystals form around edge—12 to 15 minutes.

Turn into a small mixing bowl; beat until stiff. Add cream of tartar; beat until very stiff. Fold whipped evaporated milk into chilled chocolate mixture and turn into prepared pie crust fill as full as you can and refrigerate pie about 5 minutes or until top is set, then spread with any remaining filling (left at room temperature). Chill until firm. Top with whipped cream if desired.

NOTE: For the crumb crust, use a standard recipe made with graham crackers, corn flakes or nuts.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Small fry will enjoy the "surprise" in muffins if you make them this way. Fill buttered muffin-pan cups about half full of batter; drop a level teaspoonful of currant jelly in the center; add enough more batter to fill the muffin cups about two-thirds full. Bake as usual.

Dry yeast should be softened in water rather than in milk; it should be thoroughly stirred to make sure it has dissolved.

If you have an electric skillet, you'll find it's excellent to use in preparing grilled cheese sandwiches. Make the sandwiches as usual, then butter their outsides and place them in the hot skillet; brown slowly, turning once.

Small fry usually like colorful foods. So when you serve them a mound of cottage cheese, garnish it with a little finely grated carrot or a carrot curl.

Cooking Is Fun...

POTATO CASSEROLE

2 pounds (8 medium) potatoes, 8 slices crisply cooked bacon, cut in half crosswise, ¼ cup hot milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons paprika, Dash of cayenne, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine.

Pare and cut potatoes into ½ inch thick slices.

In a 1½-quart casserole, alternate layers of potatoes with bacon and onion; begin and end with potatoes. Mix together the hot milk, butter and seasonings; pour over potatoes.

Cover and bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 1 hour or until potatoes are tender. If you like, you may dot the potatoes with extra butter and brown under the broiler before serving.

SPECIAL MINCE PIE

Flaky pastry for 2-crust 8-inch pie, 1 jar (1 pound, 2½ ounces) rum and brandy-flavored mince meat, 1 medium tart apple (pared, cored, and chopped fine) 4 teaspoons grated orange rind.

Roll out half of pastry ½-inch thick; line an 8-inch pie plate with it. Roll out remaining pastry for lattice top and cut into ½-inch strips.

Mix together the mincemeat, apple and orange rind. Spread over bottom crust. Weave pastry strips lattice-fashion over mincemeat.

Trim bottom crust and fold over or under strips to seal, form a high rim and flute. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven 30 minutes or until pastry is brown. If made ahead, reheat before serving.

OATMEAL WAFERS

½ cup dark brown sugar firmly packed, ½ teaspoon baking powder, Pinch of salt, 1 cup quick-cooking rolled oats, ¼ cup butter or margarine, melted, 1 large egg, ¼ teaspoon vanilla.

Grease cookie sheets lightly; shake flour over them so they are coated with an even layer. In a mixing bowl stir together thoroughly the brown sugar, baking powder and salt; stir in rolled oats and melted butter.

Beat egg and vanilla until thick and ivory colored; fold into oats mixture. Drop level teaspoonfuls, several inches apart, onto prepared cooki sheet.

Bake in a moderate (50 degrees) oven about 8 minutes or until brown.

Allow to stand about a minute before removing with a spatula to wire rack; brush off pan coating; cookies should be firm enough to come off pan evenly and have smooth glazed bottoms.

If cookies harden before removal, return to oven for a few seconds to soften. Cool; store in tightly covered container. Makes 3 to 3½ dozen cookies.

Here's a Primer For Potential Burglary Victims

Why Be Half Safe? Just Rent a Battleship

By WARD CANNEL
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK — (NEA) — It is with natural pride in American know-how that the "Visit the U.S.A." program is currently showing off our country to 11 foreign crime detection experts. In the past years, U.S. burglars pulled off a record of one theft every 35 seconds for a total take of $171 million in goods and cash, making burglary a more profitable diversion than distilling.

Now this feat would not have been achieved without the co-operation of the nation's house-holders and property owners, say criminologists and lock makers. And the following primer, based on interviews with these experts, tells what you can do about it.

Q—How do I co-operate with burglars?

A—In many obvious ways. Among them by leaving your doors ajar; by leaving the key under the mat; by not checking the credentials of door-to-door salesmen; by having the social page announce your vacation plans in advance.

Q—I never do those things. What else?

A—Many people are still lax about locks. In these modern times they still have old-fashioned keying mechanisms instead of pickproof locks. Q—I thought burglars used jimmys and saws and drills?

A—There are now jimmy-proof locks, too. And if they're made of hardened steel they can't be sawed, drilled or shot off.

Q—Well, what's to stop a burglar from breaking the glass and reaching through to unlock the door from the inside?

A—Many folks are now beginning to use steel doors and locks that are operated by a key, both on the inside and outside. Even if a burglar gets in somehow, he won't be able to open the door and take things out.

Q—Couldn't he just take the screws out and pull the whole lock off?

A—No. Modern security engineering has come up with one-way screws. The slot is designed so you can tighten them but you can't turn them the other way.

Q—Yeah. But what if I lost my key?

A—Call a locksmith. Now, to continue.

Q—What can a locksmith do against a pick-proof, jimmy-proof, hardened steel, saw-proof lock that's been joined to a steel door with one-way screws?

A—He'll know what to do. Don't be such a worrier.

Q—Listen, you started this thing. I want to know what the locksmith is going to do.

A—Good grief. There's lots he can do. If worse comes to worst,

Is there such a thing as a burgle-proof home?

A—He'll know what to do. Don't be such a worrier.

Q—Listen, you started this thing. I want to know what the locksmith is going to do.

A—Good grief. There's lots he can do. If worse comes to worst, he can always pry the door off the jamb.

Q—Pry the door? . . .

A—Certainly! It's quite simple. Now, to continue.

Q—Couldn't a burglar do the same thing?

A—He can always pry the door off the jamb.

Q—Kindly answer the question. Couldn't a burglar pry the door off the jamb?

A—Well, actually, yes but you must remember that burglars have to work fast. Now, to continue. . .

Q—Fast? Didn't you say they committed burglary every 35 seconds? Isn't that pretty fast?

A—Good grief. Now, to continue. . .

A—Yes.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

Last week we enjoyed the biggest week in the history of the Country Store. More people spent more money here than ever before.

We really do appreciate your patronage and will do all we can to be deserving of it.

We realize we are not getting as many people from the Salem area as we did before they opened the new IGA there. The increased business from the Youngstown area has filled the gap and a little more but we still have room for more people so you are invited to make regular visits here to the Country Store.

Today's Steak Winner:
Ruth Goddard, 642 W. Wilson, Salem, Ohio

We need to meet our 125 pint quota at the Bloodmobile Friday. Our chapter is not doing as well as last year and recent visits to Lisbon and Columbiana did not make quota. Making quota means free blood whenever you and your family need it.

The Fading Stars:

Anybody Can Call Himself One

STARS AND STARS: Greta Garbo and Jean Harlow were acknowledged greats of their day. Even such prominent actresses as Doris Day and Elizabeth Taylor may never succeed in rivaling such stardom as this.

(First of Three Dispatches.)
By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK — (NEA)—This, apparently, is the era of the pocket-sized star.

The big names in today's entertainment firmament seem to have much less glow-power than their counterparts of yesterday. Doris Day and Elizabeth Taylor may shine their darndest, but they'll never have the magic of Jean Harlow or Greta Garbo. Rock Hudson is no Clark Gable. James Arness no Gary Cooper. Hayley Mills no Shirley Temple.

Are stars simply less glamorous than before—or is the changing industry making the institution of stardom less vital? "I don't need stars in a movie today," says director Otto Preminger. "All I need is a good story. The public goes to the box office to see a story, not a star."

"TELEVISION is breeding a race of domesticated stars," says Farley Granger. "You see the old movies of Harlow and Gable on the Late Show—they were STARS. They were big. No more. We're not getting people like that nowadays."

Those are the two sides to the question. But there is more to it than those simple statements.

First, just what is a star? Today the word is banded about loosely. But at least on Broadway, it is closely defined. A star is a person whose name appears above the title of a play. This, if a billing reads: Norton Yucca and Filomena Pflug in "Last Night, Tomorrow" with Hal Intaglio and Gwyneth Esteban Mr. Yucca and Miss Pflug are stars and Mr. Intaglio and Miss Esteban are classed as featured players.

But movies and television don't hew to the definition. They toss the word around so loosely that it has come to be virtually meaningless. All an actor needs is a card in the Screen Actors' Guild and a press agent and he's called a star.

There are, however, stars and there are Stars. Genuine Stars still exist. It is a combination of box office draw, front page new value and acting ability which sets them apart. These three qualities are often referred to, by theatrical sophisticates, as "chemistry."

ELIZABETH TAYLOR they will say, "has the chemistry that makes a star."

Two actors, of roughly the same ability and the same appearance can start at the same time. The public takes to one, not the other. That is stardom's chemistry working. And it continues to work today. But the products it is creating are not quite as magical as they once were.

Preminger says it is because the public is more discerning and cares more for a good story than for the actor playing the part. Granger thinks the raw material is not there any more. NEXT: Who Needs Stars?

Swine Breeding Problems

One of the main problems in artificial breeding of swine is accurate detection of the heat period in sows, according to an Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station scientist.

Dr. Richard F. Wilson of Columbus, addressing the North Central Sectional meeting of the American Society of Animal Science in Chicago, told fellow animal scientists about an Ohio field trial involving fresh, diluted boar semen used to inseminate sows and gilts on farms in Central Ohio. More than 1,500 inseminations were made during the period January 1, 1961 through July 15, 1962.

Speaking about the difficulty in obtaining accurate detection of heat periods, Dr. Wilson said, "In the opinion of the inseminators, only about half the owners of gilts were able to detect heat accurately enough that the females could be inseminated when the inseminator arrived at the farm. Also, only about 40 per cent of the farmers were estimated by the inseminators to be able to detect heat accurately enough that the female could be inseminated during her second day of heat."

Inseminators and producers involved in the program were sent a questionnaire in an effort to evaluate it. Dr. Wilson said. Producers who answered the questionnaire said they used artificial insemination because it was cheaper than owning a boar. They also mentioned the high quality of the pigs resulting from such a breeding program.

"On the average," Dr. Wilson said, "the pigs from sows bred artificially grew fastest and produced the best carcasses. This would of course be expected in that the sows involved in the artificial insemination project were all carefully selected based on production records."

BASIC HAIR CARE

In spite of all the preoccupation with hair styles and tints these days, many girls express disappointment with their hair results. A little sleuthing leads to the discovery that often you've been slipshod about the basic care of the hair. In the very same way that you can't expect a good figure without eating a balanced diet, you can't look forward to beautiful hair unless you nurture it through massage and brushing on a daily basis. When your hair really becomes your "crowning glory," it's time to think seriously about the style and color that give you the most flattery.

Dr. Wilson stated that of a total of 1,090 different females inseminated, 30.3 per cent eventually farrowed. Of this number 67.9 per cent, or 224 females, settled after one service, about one-fourth of them after two services. When the percentage of conception was based on the number of females that settled from first services, sows had a 2 per cent better percentage of conception than did gilts.
